Policies of the Society

Conference

• Subsidized graduate student rooms are available to students members only. Students must pay room fees before their reservation is guaranteed. (2001)
• New members should have special markers on their name tags. (1993)

Yearbook

• Papers to be considered for submission must not exceed 4500 words. Responses to papers must not exceed 1500 words. Both limits include endnotes. (1993)
• Permission to reprint articles from the yearbook is generally granted to both member and non-member authors.

Committees

• The President-Elect shall appoint committee members prior to taking office, and announce the appointments at the business meeting at which the President-Elect takes the gavel. (2002)

Membership

• Members receive Educational Theory from the date they renew their membership through the end of the fiscal year (June 30).
• Members will a receive discount for early conference registration. The amount of discount is determined by the Executive Board with advice from the finance committee. (2007)
• Members who are behind in their dues by two academic/fiscal years will be marked as "inactive." The Executive Director may send reminder emails to those whose memberships have expired or are about to expire. (2001)

Elections

• Members of the Election Committee may not serve as candidates while serving their term on the committee. (2001)

Officers’ Compensation

• With advice from the Finance Committee and consistent with the ongoing financial health of the Society, the Executive Board may approve fair and appropriate compensation (e.g. lodging at the annual meeting, travel expenses, and/or an annual expense account) for the following individuals for the upcoming year: the President, Executive Director, Communications Director, Program Chair, Hospitality Chair and Meeting Planner. Any such compensation must be reapproved on an annual basis. (2016)
